TOWN CRIER - WILMINGTON, MASS.

APRIL 21, 1966

PRICE 10 CENTS

FIRST IN A DECADE

TOWN AUCTIONS LAND MAY 10TH

For the first time in over ten years, the Town of Wilmington will be selling real estate, at auction, to any purchaser. The date has been set for May 10, at 7:30 pm, with a second day of May 11, if necessary.

The property is owned by the town by virtue of Tax Title claims being land that has been taken for non-payment of taxes.

The town about seven years ago had such a sale scheduled, but at the last moment it was called off. The late Paul Emmons was to be the auctioneer that night.

Lloyd C Bender, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, is to be the auctioneer on May 10th.

A full list of the properties to be sold appears on page 11 of this week's issue of the Town Crier.

Women's Club to Elect

Election of officers will be held on Thursday, April 28th at the Annual Meeting of the Wilmington Women's Club. The meeting will be in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church, at 12 noon.

At 1 pm the business meeting, conducted by President Mrs Alexander Goldworthy, will start with the reading of annual reports. Election of new officers will follow.

A delightful musical program is to be presented by a touring trio known as the Melody Moms of Reading.

The Annual Luncheon is to be held on May 12, at Valle's Steak House in Saugus. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs Frank McLean, Luncheon Chairman.

GEORGETTE CRISPO ENGAGED

Mr and Mrs George A Crispo of Shawheen Avenue have announced the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Georgette Elaine Crispo, to Mr. Lester O Frisch Jr., son of Mr and Mrs Lester O Frisch of 27 Bagley Ave. Fitchburg.

Miss Crispo, a graduate of Wilmington High School, is now attending Lowell Academy of Hairdressing, and is presently employed by the Raytheon Co.

Mr. Frisch is a graduate of Fitchburg High School, and attended Wentworth Institute. He is employed by the Raytheon Company.

A November wedding is planned

A HIGHLY EMBARRASSED YOUNG MAN: Provided the best picture of the week, and the best catch of the fishing season, at Lubbers Brook, in North Wilmington Sunday.

He had parked his Corvair on the grassy bank, so that he could work on the rear end, without using a jack, which he didn't have. The Corvair slipped into the brook, and a tow car (cost $20) had to be called to pull it out.

Photo shows him 'diving' into his car, to steer it, as the tow truck pulls it out, and a part of the interested crowd of spectators.

Young Man of the Year Award

Dr. Ralph LePore of Parker St. was presented with the 1966 Young Man of the Year award, last night, at the Rolling Green Motel, by the Wilmington Jaycees.

On hand, among the guests, was the Rev. Terry Clay Thomason, one of the recipients of the award last year. Mr. Thomason assisted in the presentation.

The presentation was made by Robert R Smith, of Ridge Road, State Director of the Jaycees.

Mr Smith, in his remarks, said that the choice of Dr. LePore for the award typified the dreams of every parent, for their children. Dr LePore, he said, was a fine student in academic life, a fine competitive athlete, and finally, a man dedicated to an honored profession.

Massachusetts Jaycee President James Calder of Billerica spoke briefly on the importance of the award, and how the selections are made from the many candidates. Local winners, he said, go on to State and National competitions, and eventually Ten Outstanding Young Men are chosen, from the nation at large.

President Frank Canney of the Wilmington Chapter of Jaycees outlined the work of the organization, of which, he said, most people are not aware, - and declared that the presentation of the Outstanding Young Man award was one of the most rewarding experiences for any chapter.

DOCTOR LEPORE: And Jaycees. The presentation of the Young Man of the Year award, last night, in the Rolling Green Inn.

THEY'LL BE CALLING ON YOU: John Cotter (left) and Douglas Smith, of the firm of Cole-Layer-Trumble, the firm that is doing the re-evaluation of Wilmington real estate, for the Wilmington Board of Assessors.

Mr Smith lives in South Portland Maine, and Mr Cotter in Salem New Hampshire. Cotter once worked in the same office with Fred Grimes, last principal assessor of Wilmington.

The Captain Kidd Legend

In North Wilmington, off Andover Street, and a little north of the Brown's Crossing pumping station, is a natural cavern, formed by glacial action thousands of years ago. It is called, for no good reason known to the Town Crier, Devil's Den. It is not a large cavern, - just a small cave going a few feet into the hillside - but reputedly it is the site of a treasure buried by the redoubtable Capt. Kidd.

The Wilmington legend is several hundred years old, and comes from the Harnden family - the same family that suffered from the Indian Massacre in 1706, and which gave Wilmington its only General, Henry Harnden, the man who captured Jefferson Davis at the end of the Civil War.

The first of the Wilmington Harndens was Richard, who built a home at what is now 67 High Street, about 1667 or 1668. He was an Englishman who have lived in Rhode Island as early as 1645. At one time he owned all the land between Salem Street and the Ipswich River at what is now Jenks Bridge (Woburn Street).

Traditionally Richard Harnden is supposed to have built his house as early as 1665, but this is not borne out by any records that can be found. 1667 or 1668 is a safer date. The house was still standing in Civil War days, but is no longer in existence.

Richard had two sons, John and Benjamin. It was John who built the home where the massacre occurred, several hundred feet north-easterly from Indian Rock, which now can be seen plainly from Marcia Road extension.

Benjamin, the younger brother, lived in the home of his father, and there raised his family. Benjamin was the man who accidentally killed the Indian Squaw, down near the North Woburn line, and thus started the chain of events that led to the massacre.

Capt. Kidd, as is well known, was a Boston Shipmaster who was hanged in London (England) for allegedly being a pirate, while on a cruise as a privateer. There are many stories about Capt. Kidd's treasures, one of the more authentic of which may be that of Gardiner's Island, at the east end of Long Island, New York.

Wilmington's Capt. Kidd story came from the children of the Harnden family - probably the children of Benjamin Harnden.

In the early days, before Wilmington became a town, the Harnden home site was in Reading, as was all of Woburn Street, down to Jenks Bridge and beyond. The road from Boston to Andover, called 'The Andover Road,' was Woburn Street and Andover Street of today, and a part of High Street. There was a ford at the Ipswich River, where Jenks Bridge now is, the first good ford on the Ipswich, and Andover people had to use that ford, if they were coming from Boston.

One morning, perhaps before 1700, children of the Harnden family looked out the window, at the road at the foot of the hill, and saw a heavily laden wagon going north. The wagon was drawn by four horses, and there was a white man and a negro driving.

In the afternoon they saw the same wagon going south, much lighter, and without the negro.

This gave rise to the legend about Capt. Kidd's Treasure. The supposition was that there was a treasure in that wagon, and it had been buried near Devil's Den, and then the negro slave had been slain so that his spirit would be the guardian of that treasure.

Anyone who searched for that treasure would be unable to find it, because the spirit of that slave would move it to another location.

To this day the treasure has never been found - which of course proves the story!

Quarter Century Club at GE

Bernard R. Bacon, 114 Andover Street, a planner with the Flight Propulsion Division of General Electric, in Lynn has completed 25 years of service.

A General Electric Apprentice graduate, he participated in the development of America's first jet engine.

Arthur E. Varly, of 13 Shady Lane Drive, has been qualified for induction into the Quarter Century Club, at General Electric.

Mr Varly began his GE career as a freight handler, and is now a buyer with the Flight Propulsion Division in Lynn.

TOWN NOTES

Fishing

The fishing season is on us, and we can report that the followers of Izzack were lined up elbow to elbow for a while, on Saturday morning, down at Concord Street, where, it seems, more trout were planted than in any other part-around, at least in Wilmington.

There do not seem to be many trout at Jenk's Bridge, on Woburn Street, and there is, or was, a fair supply at the Middlesex Ave bridge of Lubber's Brook.

Al Ethier of Woburn Street got the biggest of which we have heard, for anyone from Wilmington - a 16 inch, down in Horn Pond in Woburn. Top honors in the local area seems to go to Roger Okolo, a 12 year old who pulled a 12 inch trout out of Lubbers Brook the first thing, Saturday

Successful Rep

Student Government Day was two weeks ago, in the State House. The Town Crier wanted to get into the State House to get a picture of Cindy Blake, who represented Wilmington High School, and to whom Rep. Fred Cain probably was most gallant.

If it had been possible the Town Crier might have found out that another Wilmington youngster was in the State House, on that day.

Richard Provezano of West St. was the student government representative from Essex Aggie, and further was the only Representative who had a 'bill' passed by the student government.

Richard introduced a bill designed to combat pollution of water, and air, and it was voted by the student legislature.

Extra Fire Department

Don't tell the Brave Fire Ladies, but Wilmington now has three fire departments.

The Wilmington Fire Department, Uncle Avco's, and The Jackson Brothers.

The old 1938 Chevy, which was for many years stationed at the Brown's Crossing Pumping Station has been sold to the Jackson Brothers, for the sum of $100. The TM put it up for sale, and a couple of bids were received, with the Jackson Brothers topping the list.

The Mack, incidently, is being moved up to Brown's Crossing, to take the place of the '38 Chevy, and as a result the old gas tank

KEVIN MCKELVEY TO RECEIVE MSGGF AWARD

Kevin B. McKelvey of Border Ave, a Merrimack College Senior, has been notified by the Trustees of the Murray Season Good Government Fund that he has been selected as one of twenty 1966 recipients of the MSGGF award. The award is for young people serving summer internships in municipal government.

Mr McKelvey will be serving his internship this summer in the City of Port Huron, Michigan, under the supervision of Gerald R Bouchard, City Manager, former Town Manager of Wilmington.

In vying for the award Kevin was in competition with undergraduate and graduate students from as far away as the University of California, and as close as Brandeis University. Now a Junior Member of the International City Manager's at Brown's Crossing has been taken out, and a powered model put in. During the Blackout, last November, that old gas pump was the only place in Wilmington where gas could be dispensed, we think. And, now there is none, if there should be another such blackout.

But to get back to the Jackson Brothers. They got a truck with only 20,000 miles on it, even if it doesn't go very fast. They intend to keep it, too - goes well with their business.

There is a power pump, and a big tank, and a suction - all the things that go into fire trucks except the hose, which the town kept.

It is going to come in real handy. When the brothers have house lots checked by the Board of Health they have to pour a lot of water into holes in the ground, to have the ground's saturation abilities tested.

It used to be that they would have to lug a lot of water for such tests - now all they have to do is to drive up in the Jackson Fire Department Truck, and fill up those holes.

The same thing goes for when the brothers will be burning brush. They'll just have their truck standing by - no danger of any fire spreading!

But the best story is about Lionel - the brother who lives on Manning Street.

Selectmen's Meeting

TM Richard Henneberger's comments on the operation of the Selectmen-Town Manager form of government in Wilmington came back to haunt him, the past Monday night. The comments, quoted last week in this paper, concerned alleged breaches in the ideal operation of the system.

Selectman Paul Niles sought to have a typed statement on the executive session which followed last week's meeting included in the minutes of that meeting. Niles argued that, since Henneberger's comments had been aired publicly he felt the other side of the story should be told.

The Niles addenda stated: 'During this executive session it was admitted by the Town Manager that the only action on which his remark was based was that the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen had requested that the Town Manager take immediate action to enable the Board of Selectmen to carry out the vote of the Annual Town Meeting to hold a land sale of certain parcels of Tax Title property.' The addenda quoted the TM as saying that he resented such a directive from 'only one member of the Board'.

Niles motion to have the addenda included in the minutes of the meeting brought strong objections from Selectman Miceli, who charged that Niles was 'taking the entire thing out of context'. Miceli argued that much more was discussed in the executive session, and a partial disclosure was unfair to the TM.

Mr Black and Mrs Drew both expressed themselves as being in favor of adding Niles statement to the minutes. They said it was only fair to present both sides of the picture.

Miceli angrily charged that what he had gotten from the executive session was that 'one man was trying to be the whole Board'.

'You're playing politics' he accused. 'This guy (the TM) is being put in the bag!'

At this Mrs Drew shouted: 'Stop it! Stop it right now!'

Niles defended his motion, declaring that it was the TM, and not he, who elected to make the issue public.

Miceli suggested that the entire minutes of the executive session be made public. Niles replied that he would have to see the minutes first, to be sure that they were accurate. 'I'm sure that they are as accurate as they always are' was Miceli's comment.

When the vote was taken only Miceli opposed the inclusion of the Niles statement in the minutes of last week's meeting.

Adams Street

The board unanimously voted to sell a town owned parcel of land on Adams Street to an abutter, F. C. Carrasco, for $1550. The town voted, some years ago, authority for the sale, and the price was set from a recent evaluation by the principal assessor. No other abutters expressed an interest in the property.

Lowell Gas

Permission was unanimously given to the Lowell Gas Company to extend its main from Grove Avenue across the intersection of Lake St and along South Street. Lowell Gas Co. representative Ronald Girard presented sketches and proposals for the project to the board.

The board directed that, in the future, as a matter of policy, sketches and proposals should always accompany all requests for permits. Niles told Mr Girard that the town wanted to be certain that the mains would not be in conflict with water and/or sewer mains, and that the board was concerned about the streets being usable by the public.

Girard told the board that the Gas Company has plans for extending its mains along Burlington Ave and Bridge Lane.

Assembly Hall

George Wilson of Andover St. was granted a license to operate a hall at 222 Andover Street. A stipulation on the license was that any function for which tickets would be sold to the public at large would require a special permit from the board. The board was specially concerned about public dances.

Wilson had applied for a license last fall, but had refused to accept it after the board had stipulated that no alcoholic beverages could be consumed on the premises. Some members of the board had been opposed to the initial license on the grounds that it would have been tantamount to licensing a public dance hall.

Town Counsel

Town Counsel Alan Altman reported that there was a continuance in the case of the Town vs Angelo Sorrentino, in court, because two key witnesses were presently out of state. Altman reported that Atty Fred Corum, counsel for Sorrentino, had agreed that there would be no operation of the properties, Baby Beach, etc., until the case had been decided by the court.

In another letter to the board Altman ruled that the Town Treasurer could legally serve as a Trustee of Trust Funds. Town Manager Henneberger had appointed the treasurer to this post.

Selectman Black protested, saying that, in his opinion, the treasurer should not serve on such a board and thus assist in the direction of the investment of the monies involved.

Henneberger told the board that the appointment was to take the place formerly held by Philip Buzzell, who is retiring from all activities except on the Trustees of the Public Library.

Planning Board

'Get a grip on your chairs', Chairman Bender instructed the Board, and then he asked for a consensus on the Planning Board's public refusal to comply with the directive of the Selectmen, a directive to have public records of all votes by the boards and committee of the town.

The Selectmen unanimously decided that their directive had not been unreasonable.

Niles suggested that the Chairman, Mr. Bender, talk with the Chairman of the Planning Board, and explain the views of the Selectmen on the subject, and Mrs. Drew remarked that, although the Selectmen have executive meetings the voting is always public.

Bender demurred, saying that the Planning Board was not appointed by the Selectmen, but rather by the Town Manager. He said that if the TM wished the chairman to accompany him, in a visit to the Planning Board, he, Bender, would be happy to go along.

Henneberger agreed, and the two men will visit the Planning Board at their next meeting.

Advisory Members

The Selectmen agreed to drop the practice of appointing members to serve as 'advisory' members of various boards of the town. The exception was the Permanent Building Committee, in which the policy had been set by a Town Meeting vote.

Selectman Paul Niles, who had served on the Permanent Building Committee, was unanimously voted to serve as advisory member to that committee.

The board also directed that a letter be sent to the PBC advising them to change their meeting time from Monday nights, in order to fulfill the directives of the Town Meeting. Niles had at first declined accepting the appointment on the grounds that he could not attend two meetings on the same night.

Niles suggested that a 'liaison' member to the Planning Board might be worthwhile, and Chairman Bender agreed, declaring that certain gaps in communications existed between the two boards.

Bender suggested that Mr Miceli be the 'liaison' member to the Planning Board, and after a remark from Mrs Drew Miceli was unanimously approved.

Policy Statements

Chairman Bender directed that a review of the minutes of the Board of Selectmen, for the past two years should be made, for the purpose of extracting all policies, established by the board during that time. The purpose of the work, Bender declared, was to have in one volume all votes on policy, for reference purposes.

Mrs. Drew was appointed to the task of extracting the policy statements, with the Selectmen's clerk as an assistant.

Land Auction

The evening of May 10th was set aside for a public auction of some 90 pieces of town owned Tax Title land. The auction will start at 7:30 pm, and will continue on the next night, if necessary. Mr. Bender was named to act as the Auctioneer.

Reading Well Field

A letter from the Town of Reading

Board of Public Works requested permission from the Wilmington Selectmen to have a joint meeting, for the purpose of discussing the possibility of Reading purchasing a 50 to 100 foot wide strip of land, along Route 93, on the east side, in the Hundred Acre Meadow. The land is adjacent to the Reading well fields, and the Reading BPW is seeking to expand their facility.

Wilmington's Selectmen wanted to talk it over with the Reading Selectmen, at first, but then remembering that the Reading BPW is an elected body in that town, directed their letter to the BPW with a copy to the Reading Selectmen.

The letter is to say that the Reading BPW can appear before the Wilmington Selectmen at a time of their own convenience.

More Schools?

Selectman Niles reported that he had been informed, during a casual meeting with School Supt. Harold Shea, that the town would soon have to be building more schools. The board agreed to ask that the School Committee meet with the Selectmen to discuss the projected school population of Wilmington.

Other Business

A permit for a horse show, to be held on the former Clark Farm on Andover Street on May 15th was granted to the Wilmington Grange.

A letter was received from the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources approving the action of Wilmington's Selectmen, in their hearing under the Hatch Act, on the proposed construction of a building off West Street, by the DiCenso Brothers of Quincy. The proposed construction was deemed proper, under the regulations of the Hatch Act. Bender reported that the Wilmington hearing was the second such hearing ever held in the Commonwealth, under the new law.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 pm.

Selectman Niles'
Statement

Last Monday night the Town Manager, as stated in the minutes of our last meeting, and as reported in a local newspaper, made a statement that last Monday 'he had seen every breach imaginable in the Town Manager-Council plan of government.' The Chairman of the Board of Selectmen thereafter called for an executive session to discuss the Town Manager's comment. During this executive session it was admitted by the Town Manager that the only action on which his remark was based was that the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen had requested that the Town Manager take immediate action to enable the Board of Selectmen to carry out the vote of the Annual Town Meeting to hold a land sale of certain parcels of Tax

Title property. This was a necessary follow-up to prior suggestions from the Board of Selectmen particularly in view of the fact that the Town Meeting had directed the scheduling of the land sale to be not later than 12 May 1966. Some work had been done, but not all that was required, and the Chairman directed that the remaining work be done last Monday.

The Town Manager stated that he resented such a directive from 'only one member of the Board'. A majority of the remaining members supported the Chairman's action, pointing out that due to a lack of action on the part of the Town Manager the Board of Selectmen had to act immediately and that the Chairman did not have time to contact the rest of the board.

It is the opinion of a majority of the Board of Selectmen that the Town Manager's remark was completely inaccurate and that the action of the Chairman was necessary and proper. In addition, the Chairman was following the direction of

They Met in Africa

ON BOARD THE ATLANTIS II, in Freetown harbor; are L to R Eddie, Ruth and Jigger.

Eddie Clinch, 29 year old Chestnut street youngster, is pretty well known to the people of Wilmington. His father lived here for years, and his mother still has her home on Chestnut Street, where Eddie was born, and from which he went to the Wilmington Schools, graduating from the High School in 1955.

Across the street lived a boy who was a few years older, George 'Jigger' Janes. Hardly anyone knows him by the name of George. Jigger it was, when he went to the Wilmington schools, and Jigger it was when he graduated from Wilmington High, and went into the Navy, in time to see service in World War II.

It is to be doubted if the two men have really seen much of each other even if they are across-the-street neighbors. But they met a few days ago - in Africa.

After Eddie graduated from Wilmington High School he enlisted in the Air Force, and in 1959, in his last year, he was stationed at Otis AFB, down on Cape Cod. It was nice, and it gave Eddie a little head start on his ambition to go to college, after he had finished his enlistment.

So, to fulfill his ambition he attended several colleges, as opportunity offered. He put in a year or so at the Plymouth State College up in New Hampshire, and at the University of Massachusetts, and he studied at Northeastern University night school.

Then Eddie up and joined the Peace Corps - that group of dedicated people in the service of Uncle Sam who go to outlandish places, and some not so outlandish, to help the peoples of other countries achieve better living and cultural conditions.

Eddie was sent to California for training, and then to the West Coast of Africa, to Sierra Leone, where he has been for the past 18 months.

Whether by accident or design, a young lady, the former Ruth Williams of Poland Falls, Maine, went to Sierra Leone too. She is a Registered Nurse, and she was also undergoing training in California, for the Peace Corps when she met Eddie. Now they are Mr and Mrs.

They are stationed in a small village, Shenge. Eddie teaches the villagers how to make bridges, and boats, and homes. Mrs Clinch runs the infirmary, for 500 children, a Peace Corps project, and when Eddie isn't busy with his projects he goes over and helps Ruth with hers.

Jigger Janes, who is maybe eight or nine years older than Eddie, has been on board the Atlantis II for the past three years. His ship is one of those which are based at Woods Hole, and go to the lonely parts of the ocean to investigate such things as sea-life, bottom contours, and other things of scientific interest.

Jigger is now nearly at the end of his second trip around the world on the Atlantis II. He wrote home recently, to his mother, to tell her that the Atlantis would be stopping in at Freetown, on the west coast of Africa.

Mrs Janes stepped across the street, to tell the neighbors.

The result was a letter to Eddie. And when Eddie heard that Jigger was to visit Freetown, he made it his business to visit that place too, along with Ruth.

Result: A meeting of neighbors, on board the Atlantis, in a port in West Africa, almost half a world away from the home town of Wilmington.

They may possibly meet again in May.

Jigger's ship will be in Woods Hole, and Eddie and Ruth are coming home for a brief leave, before they return to Africa.

Possibly, almost probably they will be meeting, but this time in a home on Chestnut Street, in good old Wilmington, USA.

Eastern Middlesex Realtors Plan Realtor Week

Plans are underway by the Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors Inc to participate in the nationwide observance of Realtor Week, on May 22-28, president Richard D. Simmons has announced.

The chairman in charge of local arrangements is A Francis Knowlton of Wakefield, and others serving on the committee are Robert V O'Brien, Stoneham; John A Lann, Melrose; and Jose Henriques of Woburn.

The Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors Inc is one of more than 1500 locals boards which make up the National Association of Real Estate Boards, an organization of almost 83,000 members and the spokesman for the real estate calling. Each year a week is designated to point up Realtor activities and to explain why it is wise to handle all real estate activities through a Realtor, Mr Simmons said.

Not everyone in the real estate business is a Realtor. A Realtor is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The Realtor has the primary goal of keeping the interests of both the buyer and seller uppermost in his mind, and a special committee of the local board enforces this code, the Professional Standards Committee. It is empowered to suspend or revoke board membership or assess other penalties on any member who violates its articles.

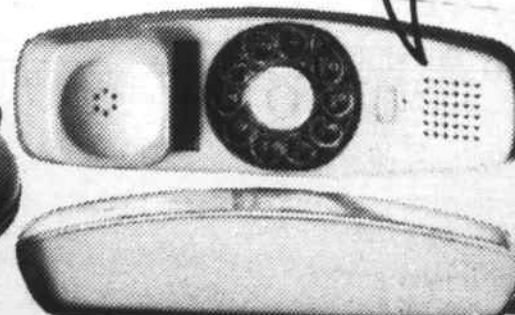

Moving Up? Settling Down? See a Realtor! will be the slogan of the year for Realtor Week. This was prompted in part by the growing demand for larger and better homes by expanding families and the desire of more and more newly married couples to own a home of their own.

Special activities of the local board, during Realtor Week, are to be announced at a later date.

He Pulls an Oar at UMass

Richard J Cone, 3 Oakwood Road, a 1965 graduate of Wilmington High School, is on the Freshman and the Junior Varsity Crews at the University of Massachusetts.

Cone, who is studying Marine Biology, is in for the revival of Crew at UMass. This is the first time since 1871 that there has been organized boat racing at the Amherst Institution.

The boats were acquired by gift from Yale and Harvard, and other materials were acquired by a collection of trading stamps, on the part of the students.

So far, in this first season, UMass has defeated the University of Rhode Island, Amherst College, and Wesleyan and Clark Universities.

Cone is the son of Mr and Mrs Ernest L Cone.

dominion over the atom

Man will never really conquer the atom until he conquers his fear of the atom — his fear of annihilation. He needs a spiritual understanding of himself, of the universe, and of God. You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Jules Cern of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. The title is "Christian Science: Dominion Over the Atom." ## Exceptional Children Exhibit at Wildwood School

The Wildwood School, last week, was the meeting place for Parents of Exceptional Children, and at the same time an exhibition of some of the work done by the children.

Special classes are conducted in Wilmington for the children, in the West School, under the guidance of Mrs Isabelle Burns. The aim is to provide a sound scholastic base in keeping with the pupil's ability, little or no chance of success in the grades, can face life with confidence. The future is brighter for the children, who are taught trades as well as basic education.

President of the Wilmington organization is Irwin Squibb of Suncrest Avenue. The Vice President is Mrs Grace Meehan, Mrs Marilyn Deschenes is Secretary, and Mrs Dorothy Pierce the Treasurer.

Letters

April 14, 1966

Dear Larz:

It has been some time since I have put in my 2¢ worth and written to the Town Crier.

This I can no longer stand, so I must say this:

It would seem that everyone connected with this Library is involved in Architecture, Parking Space, and Poor Planning.

It would seem to me that the most important item in the whole thing is: What is Going on to the Steel Shelves?

Has anyone read the Article in 'Time', or the condensed article in the Reader's Digest, page 153, April 1966?

This is the most important part of any library. To go into one, and to find just what you are looking for, regardless of what subject, age group, or whatever. If the colleges and the best libraries in the country can't keep up with it all, please, how can the Town of Wilmington do so?

True, we need more space, but save the glitter.

Jo Carlson

10 April 1966

Dear Larz:

I receive the Town Crier, over here in Germany, once a week, and I am glad to have an outside source of information as to what's happening in the good old town. However, I have a favor to ask of you.

If you could would you either write or print in the paper a list of the Ham Radio Operators, and Call Letters, in Wilmington, around the Parker Street area if possible. A very good friend of mine is a Ham Operator, and he has agreed to try to contact anyone in or around the Wilmington area for me.

Keep up the good work!

Sgt. Lawrence W Foley,
Stuttgart, Germany. 7th Army,
Comm F. APO New York, 09046

Does any Wilmington Ham want to let the Town Crier know his name and call, so that Larry's friend can do his trans-Atlantic work?

Dr. Ames Will Speak to Parents

Mrs Louise Bates Ames, Co-founder of the Gesell Institute of Child Development, and a well known speaker on child behavior, is to speak at the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium of Wilmington High School next Sunday, at 8 pm. Her topic will be Parents Responsibility on Child Development, and she will touch briefly on School Readiness.

A graduate of the University of Maine, with a MA from the same university, and a PhD from Yale, Mrs Ames was on the staff of the Yale Clinic of Child Development continuously from 1933 to 1948 as Research Secretary and Personal Assistant to Dr Arnold Gesell. She served as Instructor, and later as Assistant Professor of Yale University School of Medicine.

She is a collaborator or co-author of 12 books and approximately 100 scientific articles and monographs, the editor of Yale Films of Child Development, and a collaborator with Dr Frances L Ilg on a syndicated newspaper column Parents Ask, which appears daily in the Boston Globe.

Mrs Ames is to speak about 45 minutes, Sunday evening. There will be a question and answer period following.

Madelyn McKie's Report on

Professor Eliot's Report

In a preliminary report of Planning for Wilmington, dated March 8, 1966, Professor Charles W. Eliot, Planning Consultant, listed the studies and reports which have had a bearing on planning problems and programs in Wilmington. These included not only reports by consultants engaged by the Town, but those authorized by the general Court of Mass. After outlining the various tools for planning, Prof. Eliot listed the seven elements necessary to comprise a Workable Program for Community Improvement and stated the planning process.

A. PROBLEMS AND OPPORTUNITIES In a definition of the problems and opportunities concerning the Town, the growing pains which Wilmington is experiencing, were related to the problems of 'adequate school and recreation facilities; adequacy of water supply and protection of water sheds; inevitability of sewerage; new or expanded public buildings for Town Hall, Library, etc.; street and bridge improvements to handle ever more traffic; and how to dispose of solid wastes'. Also noted were problems of 'how to prevent buildings in areas which appear to be 'suitable' in dry years but are really swamps or with a very high water table; how to deal with 'too small' lots and unimproved streets in old subdivisions; how to make business districts more compact and attractive; how to make available the appropriate sites for new industrial enterprises; and how to preserve and enhance the historic and other attractive qualities of the Town'.

'Similarly some of the opportunities lie in taking advantage of the natural and man-made conditions of the area: - to preserve the swamps and streams for recreation and conservation purposes; to keep the amenities around the Common; to preserve or restore portions of the Middlesex Canal; or to make the extension of rapid transit to Wilmington Junction the occasion for revitalizing and modernization of the Business Center'.

There are opportunities now to obtain substantial assistance for planning and for improvements from the Federal and State Governments and in cooperation with the other municipalities of the Boston Metropolitan Area or Ipswich River Basin.

B. GOALS AND OBJECTIVES 'It is exceedingly difficult to find out what the citizens in any community want their Town to be like in the future. In some towns there is an overwhelming desire to preserve the 'status quo', while in others, there is pressure for improvement and change. Some light has been thrown on these questions in the Towns where this Consultant has been working in recent years through a 'Questionnaire' and interviews with householders.'

C. FACTS AND DATA For continuous planning a first requisite is up-to-date information and data:

1. Inventory - necessary regarding information previously gathered and processed, degree of detail involved, and form data is kept in - statistical tables, maps etc.; and where the information is kept and how it may be consulted.
2. Base Maps
3. Existing Conditions Maps

'Much of this information and data appears in previous reports and could be brought up to date under a Program for Planning with a '701 Planning Project' and 'Continuous Planning'.

D. PROGRAM FOR PLANNING All of the plans and studies noted previously, follow the usual pattern of '701 Planning Projects' financed in part from Planning Assistance Grants of the Federal Government.

Two methods are proposed for a program of 'Continuous professional planning; and 'for permanent professional planning assistance' emphasized by the Industries contributing $8,000 per year for these purposes.

A. Establishment of a Planning Department with a full-time planner. This would involve office expenses and a yearly salary for the Consultant, and along period of time to complete the program.

B. A second way would be to continue with a part-time consulting service and utilize '701' funds available for Master Planning.

This second method seems to have many advantages and is recommended.

Also recommended, establishment of the planning program in three stages:

1. Continuous professional advice to the 'Planning Board and to the Town at large' on short-range problems and planning administration;
2. Updating, revision and completion of the 'Master Plan' under a '701 Project' and work on other elements of the 'workable program'; in order to qualify for further assistance and grants-in-aid from the Federal and State Governments; and
3. Follow-up and continuation with 'permanent professional planning assistance'. This continuing work may be carried on with further Federal Assistance or at direct Town Expense or a combination of these methods.

A Short-Range Program outlined suggests, first, an inventory of maps, current records and statistics be undertaken. The zoning map be amended regarding off-street parking and revision of the 'Subdivision Regulations, the problem of private, unaccepted and 'paper' streets, including questions of betterment assessments for road improvements, standards for such improvements, health regulations and preparation of an 'Official Map' be completed.

In matters pertaining to Long-Range planning the usual standardized studies and plans might well include:

1. A questionnaire
2. Preparation and updating base maps for planning
3. Land suitability study and reports.
4. Historical background
5. Area of influence study.
6. Existing land uses
7. Population study.
8. Economic Base Study and Report.

9. Circulation and Transportation Studies and Report
10. Preliminary General Plan - presented at neighborhood meetings
11. Public Utility Studies and Report.

12. Community Facilities Study and Report
13. Neighborhood Analysis
14. General Plan and Report

The '701 Project' might also include:

- a. Six Year Capital Outlay Program (revised annually)
- b. Revision of the zoning by-law and map
- c. Revision of the Subdivision Regulations
- d. Official Map

Action by the Town will be required on Citizen Participation, Codes and Ordinances, administrative organization, Financing and Displaced Persons.

the entire Board of Selectmen, since at the Meeting on the 5th of April, the Board urged the Chairman to ascertain that the land sale arrangements be made, so as to assure that the land sale could be conducted as directed by the annual Town Meeting.

The Town Manager was further instructed that in emergency situations the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen could and should act for the rest of the board.

The Board of Selectmen regret that the Town Manager made such a statement, but inasmuch as it was made, we believe that the citizens of our Town should be completely informed of the facts of the situation.

TOWN NOTES

Lionel likes old cars, anyway. He wants to have his own private museum, or something like that. He is always the Number One Volunteer, when it comes to driving that truck.

He drove it home, the other day, when he was going for lunch. A State Fire Marshall saw the truck - and turned and followed it. And when Lionel got out - there was the Marshall, and he wanted to know where the fire was!

Citizens Advisory Committee: a non-partisan group representative of all sections of Town including 'ex officio' members of the Planning Board, Conservation Commission, etc. to handle a questionnaire and Cond Review in addition to other routine business.

LPA or Local Planning Authority is the Wilmington Housing Authority or such New Renewal or Redevelopment Authority as the Town may establish.

Code Review is best undertaken by a local group with some advisory service, set up to provide the required 'Citizen Participation' in Urban Renewal, should presumably utilize the experience in neighboring towns and the so-called 'National Codes' - BOCA - as a basis for their studies.

COSTS AND TIMING - 'A rough calculation . . . indicates that the items in the 701 Project outlined for Wilmington might run to as much as $50,000, depending . . . upon availability of data, the degree of detail to which the work is carried and the kind of participation and help which is 'willing and able' from the Town Officials and citizens'. A period of eighteen months or two years is also recommended for the project.

'The objectives of planning are for the betterment of the 'community', but also for the larger or regional area of which the community is a part, and for the neighborhoods which make up the community. Basically, of course, they are for the betterment of the individuals and families who 'live, work and play' in the area.' To this end

TOWN OF WILMINGTON, MASS.

INVITES PROPOSALS

The Town of Wilmington, Massachusetts, by its Town Manager, will receive bids for the construction of water mains until 8:00 P.M.
Eastern Daylight Saving Time,
Thursday April 28, 1966, at the Town Hall, Church Street, Wilmington, Mass., at which time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The office copy of the contract and plans for the work and also the bid forms to be used can be obtained at the office of Whitman &
Howard, Inc., Engineers, 89 Broad Street, Boston, Massachusetts, upon the deposit of $20.00.

Said deposit will be refunded if such documents are returned in good condition within five days after the opening of general bids.
Bid forms with contract documents and plans will be mailed to prospective bidders upon request and receipt of a separate check for $3.00, which will not be refunded.

Plans and specifications will be available after April 14 at Whitman & Howard, Inc.

General bids must be accompanied by cash, certified check, treasurer's or cashier's check, issued by a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the Town of Wilmington, Massachusetts in the amount of $4000.00.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum State wage rates are established for the project as set forth in the contract documents.

No proposal may be withdrawn within thirty days, Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays excluded, after the opening of general bids.

The owner reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, waive any informalities, or accept any proposal if it is in the interest of the Owner so to do.
